

Courses in foreign languages

Academic year	2023-2024
Area subject code	05.8
Title of course	Social Psychology in Practice - Education for Prosocial Behaviour
Level	I (undergraduate – B.A.) and II (postgraduate – M.A.)
Time of implementation	1st (winter) semester and 2nd (summer) semester
Number of hours	15
ECTS	3
Lecture(s) (name and last name)	Ariadna Ciążęła
Title/position	Dr
Affiliation (Institute, division)	Institute of Human Development Support and Education
Course description (up to 600 words)	The seminar is dedicated to selected aspects of social psychology, especially group processes. The aim of the seminar is to familiarise students with negative phenomena and their potential consequences and methods of preventing them. Issues raised during the seminar also relate to shaping prosocial behaviour and caring for the common good, which is a task of every educational establishment.
Required readings	Aronson E., Wilson T. D., Akert R. M. (2007), Social psychology, Pearson Education International, Upper Saddle River. Brown R. (2000), Group processes: dynamics within and between groups, Oxford: Blackwell Publishing.
Teaching methods	Presentation, discussion, text analysis
Prerequisites	-
Assessment	Active participation during the classes Final project - workshop on shaping prosocial behaviour or counteracting unfavourable phenomena in a group
Teaching language	English
Contact person for further information (name, e-mail, phone)	Ariadna Ciążęła adciazela@aps.edu.pl